Annotation. The article analyzes the life path and research works on the scientific and pedagogical activities of the scientist academician Manash Kabashuly Kozybaev. At the same time, the article examines the opinions and memories of the scientist's contemporaries, friends, colleagues and government officials.

Keywords: works of the scientist academician M.K. Kozybaev; research; methodological problems; history of Kazakhstan; history of the Motherland; historical assessment.

Introduction

Manash Kabashuly Kozybaev is one of the scientists who contributed to the development of the history of Kazakhstan and became a leading teacher in educating a new generation of historians. Academician of the National Scientific Academy of the Republic of Kazakhstan S. Kirabayev and corresponding member of the National Scientific Academy of the Republic of Kazakhstan A. Beysenova wrote: “Manash Kozybayev was one of the brightest and most outstanding personalities in the scientific history of Kazakhstan. In turn, his contribution to the development of the national consciousness of his time and serving the national interest is enormous. Thanks to this work, he was widely recognized in his country and enjoyed the respect of his people. This was recognized by the majority during the celebration of the scientist's 70th birthday” [1, 22 p.]. These words leave no doubt about his invaluable merits as a scientist in the field of society and science.

Materials and research methods

The works and scientific research of M.K. Kozybaev are of great importance for public life. Despite the fact that the scientific and organizational work of the scholar-historian coincides with the heyday and culmination of party-authoritarian governance and the authoritarian administrative system, he made his contribution to the formation and development of scientific history. During the years of leadership of the Institute of History named after Sh.Sh. Ualikhanov National Academy of Sciences, the shrine of the history of Kazakhstan, he mobilized historians to study issues called “aktandak”; ways of forming historical consciousness were determined, the personnel potential of the institute was strengthened, and the level of scientific research increased. Under the direct leadership of Academician M.K. Kozybayev, such areas of domestic historical science as problems of the methodology of historical research, rethinking of accumulated historical knowledge, the history of the political, social and economic development of Kazakhstan, issues related to relations with near and far foreign countries have become relevant. He also created research concepts to study the trend in the formation of the national intelligentsia at the beginning of the twentieth century, the political situation in the 20-30s, collectivization of agriculture, confiscation of the rich, persecution, patriotic deeds of the Kazakh people during the Great Patriotic War [1, 51-56 pp.].

During the years of independence, the outstanding scientist showed that he is the son of his people, born for his country and land. He took part in the discussion of the Constitution of the Republic of Kazakhstan, the discussion of the national symbols of our country, was able to make a proposal and give a comprehensive opinion when analyzing laws related to the development of the field of science.

Research results

The scientific, pedagogical and social activities of M. Kozybayev are integrated with the events of the political, social and cultural development of Kazakhstan. Therefore, by studying his life path and scientific creative heritage of M.K. Kozybayev as a person means to tell the history of Kazakhstan from ancient times to the present from a scientific point of view, to evaluate it.

The life path of M. Kozybaev and his social work, his first articles and publications dates back to the 50s of the twentieth century, i.e. since my student days. If his life within the walls of the university and participation in work as a historian and his first scientific works were noted in the articles of I. Eskozhin, A. Erzhanov, E. Sholanov, L. Levitskaya[2], then in the 60s it became a series of articles evaluating his scientific works will be published.

The published work “Fruits of the Great Commonwealth” [3] (Alma-Ata, 1968.) with the participation of M. Kozybaev and edited by academician S. Baishev, was highly appreciated by researchers A. Akhmetov [4], [5], T. Naizagarin, F. Petrikovets [6] and other scientists, and the value of this work in historical science was noted.

The achievements and successes of M. Kozybaev in scientific history were clearly demonstrated in their articles by S. Bakeneev [7], Zh. Danenov [8]. In the articles of these scientists, attention was paid to the process of defending his doctoral dissertation (1969), and the scientific significance of the dissertation research work was especially noted. In the 70s of the twentieth century, a series of articles was published expressing an opinion on the scientific works of Manash Kabashuly Kozybaev. For example, in connection with the publication of his monographic work “Kazakhstan Maidan Arsenals”, articles by a number of scientists T. Mustafin, E. Baytenov, B. Sunkarbekov, O. Suindikov and others were published on the pages of union and republican periodicals [9], who noted the historical value labor and they all agreed that this work is extremely important for the history of Kazakhstan and was written on rich sources.

The life, scientific, creative and social work of Academician M. Kozybaev is analyzed in various encyclopedic, scientific, bibliographic publications and essay-memoirs. A series of articles dedicated to the 50th, 60th and 70th anniversary of the scientist were published on the pages of periodicals, which showed the scientific creativity of M. Kozybayev from all sides. For example, researchers under the leadership of V. Seregin [10] and B. Bolatov [11] made new conclusions about the scientist's achievements in the field of science and social work, and scientists M. Asylbekov, M. Kul-Muhammed, Kh. Madanov, D. Shaimukhanov, O. Sagynayev, objectively describing the milestones and scientific achievements of the hero of the day, highly appreciated the significance and importance of his scientific works [12].

During the years of independence in the 1990s, M. Kozybaev published monographs and scientific articles on current topics of various historical periods. The publication of the scientist's scientific monographs, such as "History and Modernity", "Aktandaktar Akikaty", "Zhaudy Shaptym Tu Baylap", "Work for Victory", "Tarikh Zerdesi" written in different years, replenished the number of methodological, historiographical, and documentary works. For example, B. Tolepbaev, B. Suzhikov, B. Isaev, A. Seydimbek, A. Kayyrbek and others, in their studies, assessing the importance and depth of the content of M. Kozybaev's works, the scientist's conclusions on the issue of "actandaks", his proposals proving the need to conduct a study of heritage and genealogy, his clear judgments regarding the fate of the Constitution, language, religion, the national liberation movement and the truth about the December events showed that these are invaluable works [13].

On the occasion of the 70th anniversary of Manash Kozybayev, scientific articles and memoirs began to be published on the pages of periodicals, telling about his life path, formation as a historian, scientist, teacher and public figure. A special place is occupied by the educational articles of the outstanding scientist K. Nurpeis, who analyzes his life path M. Kozybaev [14]. The author dwelled on the bright path of M. Kozybaev since his arrival in science, assessed the scientist's scientific activities in collecting and popularizing the national cultural heritage, and emphasized the importance of contribution to national spirituality, scientific thought and ideas. Special mention should be made of scientific publications and collections that reveal the scientific and creative activities of Academician M. Kozybaev [15]. Analyzing his path to science, his creative searches in the field of history, the significance of historical works, he expresses good wishes for achieving new heights in the scientific path, and S. Mendibai, P. Suynkina, S. Zholdasov, S. Aubakirov, studying his path to historical science, affirm the superiority of his scientific and journalistic works [16].

In the magazine "Otan Tarikh", published for the 70th anniversary of M. Kozybaev, a short article about the life path, state and social activities and scientific work of the scientist was published in Kazakh, Russian and English. This special issue notes the active work of M. Kozybaev in the formation of historical consciousness, the history of Kazakh statehood, the history of Kazakhstan during the period of colonialism and Soviet totalitarianism, and conceptual thinking. In addition, opinions about the scientist were published by a number of scientists, such as A. Kekilbayev, S. Zimanov, A. Kaidar, O. Sultangazin, K. Ormantaev, K. Sagadiyev, T. Sharmanov, A. Koshanov, T. Mansurov, S. Sartaev, K. Nurpeis, M. Asylbekov, A. Kusaynov, K. Baipakov, O. Batyrbekov, K. Akhmetov, M. Kul-Mukhammed, O. Ysmagulov, K. Smayylov, M. Koygeldiev, E. Sydykov, G. Mendikulova, D. Kabiev and others [17], [18].

The memoirs of Manash Kabashuly "Menin Zhuldyzym" were published [19].

This work, consisting of five parts, contains excerpts from the events of his childhood, adult life, his difficult and interesting experiences on the path to science, and his memories of relatives, friends and associates. This biographical work of the scientist is especially valuable for his analytical understanding of life lessons and the preservation of historical truth.

On the occasion of 40 days since the death of M. Kozybaev, telegrams expressing condolences in connection with the untimely death of the President of the country N.A. were published in a special edition of the magazine “Otan Tarihi”. Nazarbayev, Prime Minister I. Tasmagambetov, Chairman of the Senate O. Abdikarimov and others, in which, along with scientists and government officials, they emphasized the talent of an outstanding scientist, a prominent statesman, a person known throughout the country, who revived the national history of a scientist-historian, a master of rhetoric, writer and a person of high intelligence[21]. The life, social activities and scientific heritage of Manash Kabashuly Kozybaev in the period from 1931 to 1985 formed the basis for the candidate’s dissertation and scientific articles of the historian Z.M. Tolenova. The scientist’s research work analyzes and gives a historical assessment of the scientific works of M. Kozybaev, published during the specified period. The materials of the scientific and practical conference held in the cities of Almaty, Kostanay, Petropavlovsk, dedicated to the scientific, pedagogical, organizational, social work of Manash Kabashula and the significance of his scientific works, were published in a collection [22]. These collections included articles written by A. Koshanov, A. Kapaeva, N. Atygaev [23].

Conclusion

In conclusion, we recognize that the legacy of the scientific work of the outstanding scientist M.K. Kozybaev has not lost its value, has programmatic significance, is worthy of a good opinion and research, and will be a reference point for many scientific works. Research and memories of the scientist’s scientific, organizational and creative activities once again prove that he is an outstanding scientist, a professional specialist, revealing the multifaceted side of the scientist.
